CoreMedical Group Launches New Website

Updated design is mobile-friendly for healthcare job seekers

Healthcare professionals can search for jobs nationwide and create job alerts on CoreMedical Group's new website, whether they're using their phone, tablet, or personal computer.

Salem, NH—January 2014—CoreMedical Group is pleased to announce that it has launched a new website at coremedicalgroup.com that is more user and mobile-friendly for healthcare job seekers.

Registered nurses, physicians, physical therapists, occupational therapists and other healthcare professionals looking for travel, contract or permanent jobs can use the site to search for positions nationwide, apply to jobs, and share jobs with friends via social media and email. The new site is also more compatible with users' cell phones and tablets.

CoreMedical Group President and CEO Armand L. Circharo Jr. believes the new website will help streamline the job-seeking process for healthcare professionals, connecting them with CoreMedical's experienced career placement counselors and job opportunities.

"As a healthcare staffing firm, the primary function of our website is to provide a portal within the Web for clients and applicants to access the host of services and features we provide," says Circharo. "Our new site has streamlined this process regardless of the device that our job seekers are using."

Circharo added, “We’ve provided a state-of-the-art website that will transform the user experience and allow us to maintain a highly personal level of service throughout the placement process.”

The new website also includes information about how healthcare travelers can earn Club CoreMed, CoreMedical’s annual Caribbean trip benefit for workers who complete a minimum amount of contracted hours.

In addition, CoreMedical’s new website provides valuable licensure information for RNs, PTs, OTs, and SLPs who are seeking licensure in any one of the 50 states. Licensure assistance is one of the many career services CoreMedical Group offers traveling and permanent healthcare professionals.

Healthcare professionals who have already created profiles on CoreMedical’s former website may use the same login information for the new website.

Anyone with questions about the new website may contact CoreMedical Group at 800-995-2673 or email info@coremedicalgroup.com.
