CEO Armand Circharo Jr. ran CoreMedical when it was a division of a larger staffing firm. An opportunity to buy the company in 1999 also meant a chance to shift its focus from recruiting rehabilitation specialists to recruiting nurses—a profession where employer demand far outstrips supply (and will for many years to come). The company recruits nurses in the U.S. and in countries such as South Africa and India, where there are too few nursing jobs.

Company Profile CoreMedical Group is a national medical staffing company specializing in the placement of healthcare professionals in hospitals and acute care facilities across the United States. Originally founded in 1989 as a travel therapy agency, the Company has diversified into several other service lines including registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, radiologists and pharmacists, provided on both a travel (contract) and permanent basis. CoreMedical Group is noted within the industry for the high quality of their benefits programs for their field employees including an annual five-day vacation in the Caribbean, and for their international recruitment program which was featured on CBS Television's 60 Minutes with Leslie Stahl.
